

INDUCEMENTS FOR 1888.

Our friends tell us we have given them a good paper last year, and we flatter ourselves that such is the case. While the HERALD for the coming year will continue to be a good local family paper—giving a record of all the happenings in its locality, it will present new features of value and interest to its readers. It will contain a general market report which will be corrected weekly, a list of the real estate transfers, the doings of the courts, the news from all parts of the county, a condensed statement of notable events everywhere, in short, will be a compendium of valuable information gleaned and selected expressly for our subscribers. Congress and the Legislature are now in session, the Presidential election is on hand, a Congressman to elect, a sheriff to elect, all of which will be faithfully looked after by the HERALD, and will be to our readers subjects of considerable interest.

In addition to all this, we have determined to give away to our subscribers a large array of useful presents, among which will be one or two elegant organs, two or three sewing machines, agricultural implements, numerous articles of wearing apparel, books on literature, science and fiction, jewelry, gold and silver pens, and many other articles of use and value. We will allow a liberal commission to agents, and in addition to this commission we will give to the person securing the largest number of new subscribers a beautifully engraved gold and silver cup. Now is the time to get up clubs. Any young man or woman can make good money by securing subscribers for the HERALD. We want 1,000 new subscribers before the year closes.

SPEAKER CARLISLE will announce his committee today.

The resolutions made on New Year's day are probably more than half of them broken before now.

GOVERNOR MANNING of Missouri, died Dec. 29. Lieut. Governor Morchison took the oath of office as Governor on Jan. 1. The last has been a year noted for the deaths of public men.

TWO FAST passenger trains collided near Somerset, Saturday morning. Six persons were killed outright, and about twenty more or less injured. Among the injured was J. M. Woods, of Greenville.

BEN JONSONS, the talented young lawyer of Bardonia, was elected speaker of the Lower House of the Legislature after a spirited contest. He is a capable and honest man, and will govern the Representatives with a strong, though impartial hand.

THE Ovensboro daily Messenger was one year old Sunday, and celebrated the beginning of its second year by an elegant double number, full of choice reading and paying ads. The daily Messenger is a good paper, and has a host of admirers in this end of the State.

IN the moneyed business men of town who have the future interest of Hartford in mind, would build commodious brick business houses on the burnt corner, with an opera house above, it would be both a profitable and paying investment. A general assembly hall has been needed here.

THE daily Capital made its appearance last Friday morning. It is an elegant seven-column sheet, and contains besides a rich store of editorial matter, a full and complete report of the doings of both branches of the Legislature. It will continue during the session of the General Assembly, and will be furnished at the price of one dollar.

PROF. J. G. GLENN, one of the most energetic and wide-awake men in Western Kentucky, has taken charge of the Madisonian Times and News. Mr. Glenn is Superintendent of Common Schools of Hopkins county, State editor of the "Farmers' Association," and now edits a newspaper. The next thing for Hopkins county to do is to send him to the Legislature.

HOS. W. W. EAGAN, the Union Labor representative in the Legislature from the Second Covington District, is sound in his theories of political parties. He says:

"My leading purpose now is to switch the laboring people into the Democratic line, where it properly belongs. I think now we do devote enough of our attention to the platform of the Democratic party. The Democratic party is the party of the laboring men, and I think we should not be so slow to accept it. For this reason we have found no time to record my own. The final judgment."

THE GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

A DOCTRINE PLAIN SPOKEN AND FULL OF GOOD SENSE.
Governor Becker's first official communication to the Legislature was a masterly paper. It treated upon all subjects of vital interest to the State. The revenue system was sensibly reviewed, strong recommendations were made for the administration of justice, and the prevalent system of bribery in elections was justly condemned. Local aid was urged for the benefit of our common schools, and the various other interests of the State reviewed at his hands due and careful consideration. Below we give a few extracts upon the topics of most general interest:

REVENUE LAW.
To meet the demands of the people for a better system, they wisely enacted the present revenue law. Under its provisions, the State has received a sum of $1,000,000. After deducting the ordinary expenses of the government, there remains a surplus of $1,000,000. This surplus should be used for the benefit of the people, and the Legislature are now in session, the Presidential election is on hand, a Congressman to elect, a sheriff to elect, all of which will be faithfully looked after by the HERALD, and will be to our readers subjects of considerable interest.

In addition to all this, we have determined to give away to our subscribers a large array of useful presents, among which will be one or two elegant organs, two or three sewing machines, agricultural implements, numerous articles of wearing apparel, books on literature, science and fiction, jewelry, gold and silver pens, and many other articles of use and value. collepe will be about five o'clock and continue until nearly seven. The moon will rise at six o'clock in total eclipse, and can be located by a halo of brilliant light, provided the clouds are fair. The partial passage of the moon from the earth's shadow will occur about nine o'clock. It will be altogether a beautiful scene, and everybody can see it provided the weather is fair. The other eclipse will begin at 10 o'clock on the night of July 23, and will continue about six hours, the middle of the total obscuration occurring exactly at midnight.

HOS. H. R. KINSOLVER, in the Democratic caucus in Frankfort Thursday, nominated Jas. E. Stone, of Beckirkirk's county, for the position of Assistant Clerk of the House. The speech was spoken of by the Courier-Journal correspondent as "beautiful for its brevity." This gentleman had been a member of the House, and our people may rest assured that he will be diligent in business during the whole session.

REAR DENT NEWS.
Editorial Herald:
December 28, 1887.—News has come from our town which is very interesting to our town. Some of our little friends have been seen from a cage. The little people looked forward to the arrival of their friends, and the old people looked on with interest.

THE report of the Railroad Commission will be published in the Courier-Journal tomorrow. It will contain a full and complete report of the doings of the Commission, and will be of great interest to our readers. The Commission has been very diligent in its work, and has made many valuable suggestions for the improvement of the railroad system.

LOCAL.

There will be a railroad meeting held at the regular meeting on next Saturday night at 8 o'clock to take some steps as to the proposed road. Every person in that whole country should attend and we would suggest that every meeting should be held at the proposed line from Haswellville to Hartford. The citizens of Hartford and vicinity should meet at once and formulate some plan of operation. If the citizens of this line of road will manifest any interest, the road will most certainly be built in the near future. We wish you to do it.
